

Johnny Taylor

Johnny Taylor is a musician based in Dublin. He studied at Trinity College Dublin and Berklee College of Music before returning to Ireland to pursue music full-time. These days he is in high demand as a pianist, a musical director and a recording artist crossing a number of different genres and he plays regularly with musicians including Mary Coughlan, Denise Chaila, Loah, Aoife Doyle and Nigel Mooney. He is also a committed teacher and instructs his students in the areas of performance, ear-training, harmony and music theory.